About the Board

An international forum where leading clinicians collaborate on complex synovial sarcoma cases in children and adults. Hosted by the Very Rare Malignant Tumors Program at Children's Hospital of Philadelphia (CHOP), Penn Medicine, and Synovial Sarcoma Foundation, and led by Dr. Ted Laetsch, the Tumor Board provides expert, multidisciplinary input to guide care and expand treatment options.

For Medical Providers

Open exclusively to medical professionals

- Present complex cases
- Gain perspectives from peers at top centers
- Collaborate on treatment strategies

For Patients

If you or a loved one has been diagnosed with synovial sarcoma, your case can be reviewed by the Tumor Board

- Patients cannot join directly
- Ask your oncologist or care team to participate and present your case
